Title: Exploring the emotional, psychological, and social impacts of social media use on highly visible student-athletes in the NIL era

Principal Investigator: Jeff Ruser

Co-I: Jesse Steinfeldt

Description: The goal of the proposed project is to assess how social media impacts the well-being and psychosocial functioning of elite college athletes, given the not only the omnipresence of social media but also the recent emergence of the Name Image and Likeness (NIL) legislation that allows student-athletes to profit off of their name, image and likeness.

4. NIH Parental R01 [1R01NS113950-01]

Award: $3,251,811 ($2,118,661 direct) – 16th percentile: Funded

Title: Subconcussive neurodegenerative progression in adolescent athletes

Principal Investigator: Keisuke Kawata

Co-I: Sharlene Newman, Zhongxue Chen, Jesse Steinfeldt, Jon Macy, Keisuke Ejima

Period: 01/1/2020 – 12/31/2024

Description: The goal of the proposed project is to determine whether multiple years of subconcussive head impact exposure in adolescent athletes may induce progressive neurodegenerative changes, which lead to cognitive and sensory impairments

3. IU Vice President for Research, Research Grant Award

Jesse A. Steinfeldt, Ph.D.

Award: $ 40,000 – Funded

Title: Longitudinal investigation of subconcussive brain injury in adolescent football players: a pilot study

Principal Investigator: Keisuke Kawata

Co-investigators: Sharlene Newman, Zhongxue Chen, Jon Macy, Jesse Steinfeldt, Keisuke Ejima

Period: 09/14/2018 – 09/30/2020

Description: The project is to launch a longitudinal study in high school football players. Aims of the study is to associate cumulative subconcussive head impacts as measured by sensor-installed mouthguard with blood biomarker levels and ocular-motor functions. This is a bridge investigation to a larger scale study, which will be proposed in a prospective NIH R01 grant application.

2. IU Women's Philanthropy Leadership Council: Research Grant

Award: $12,600 ($12,600 direct) – Funded

Title: Protect the player, protect the game: how many "subconcussive" head impacts are safe?

Principal Investigator: Keisuke Kawata

Co-I: Sharlene Newman, Zhongxue Chen, Jon Macy, Jesse Steinfeldt, Keisuke Ejima

Period: 06/30/2019 – 07/1/2020

Description: The overall goal of this project is to determine the long-term subconcussive effects and identify a threshold of head impact frequency and magnitude that can induce chronic, progressive decrease in neuronal integrity and function.

1. CTSI Pilot Core Facility Funding for Research

Award: $ 9,600 – Funded

Title: A novel neuroimaging biomarker for subconcussive axonal degeneration

Principal Investigator: Keisuke Kawata

Co-I: Sharlene Newman, Zhongxue Chen Jon Macy, Keisuke Ejima, Jesse Steinfeldt

Period: 03/1/2019 – 02/28/2021

Description: The goal of this pilot study is to examine the effects of subconcussive head impacts during a high school football season on axial diffusivity of neuronal axons as measured by a novel neuroimaging index (NODDI) that have shown to sensitively reflect axonal injury.
